About ITechLaw

We're the leading international technology law association.

Who We Are

ITechLaw has been serving the technology law community worldwide since 1971 and is one of the most widely established and largest associations of its kind. It has a global membership base representing six continents and spanning more than 60 countries. Its members and officials reflect a broad spectrum of expertise in the technology law field. ITechLaw provides a forum for the exchange of ideas and in-depth examination of information technology and telecommunications law issues.

Our Members

ITechLaw members and leaders reflect a broad spectrum of expertise in the technology law field.

Our global membership base spans nearly 60 countries, and includes leading attorneys from law firms and in-house counsel, academics, government officials, law students and professionals in the technology law industry.
